What is this?

The KW Pride Prom was first held in January 2003. It was originally done as a response to the Mark Hall "bring your boyfriend to prom" controversy. The committee wanted an event that would allow LGBT individuals a safe and fun venue where they could bring their boyfriends and girlfriends and not have to worry about it being a political statement.

The event has evolved over the years to be a social occasion for members of the LGBT community to attend an elegant evening of Dining and Dancing. Where as it is a Prom in the formal sense many of the attendees go stag or with groups of friends rather than the traditional couples. This event is open to everyone both gay and straight and has been licensed as an all-ages event.
