We're here! We're there!
We're queer on Roo's Island!

EVERY YEAR we have more to celebrate and more reasons to show our pride. The queer community is a diverse group of people who have a lot to offer one another. Look around! Take this chance to mingle and experience other parts of the queer community. Let's treat this pride-day celebration as an opportunity to praise ourselves for our accomplishments both inside and outside the queer community. Let's come together to strengthen and create new bonds. This is a time for us to show each other who we are and to accept each other for who we are.

The Regional Pride Committee has worked hard to organize the Tri-Pride '99 celebration. I thank the members of the committee and our volunteers, performers, and speakers - without whom there would be no celebration. I also thank you, the members of the queer community - without whom there would be no reason for the celebration.

Tri-Pride '99 is a community event: no matter what your sexuality - be it lesbian, bisexual, transgendered, gay, two-spirited, or what-have-you - this day is for you. It's a time for the queer community to rally, show its pride, meet old friends, and form new relationships. Let's come together and Rock the island with Diversity.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRIME MINISTER OF CANADA

I am pleased to extend greetings on the occasion of the 1999 Pride Week Festival.

As Canadians, we take pride in our diversity and regard it as a source of enrichment and strength. Indeed, present at the very founding of our country was the idea that people of different backgrounds could work together to build a common home, in peace and security, while retaining their special and unique characteristics. As this idea strengthened in Canada, it summoned us to embrace the principles of tolerance, fairness, and compassion for all Canadians and to shun the elements of bigotry and intolerance. By adhering to our first principles, we have built a country recognized internationally as the best in the world in which to live and where its citizens take pride in the fact that we can be both different and equal at the same time.

This proud commitment is clear in the words of the Canadian Human Rights Act which reads, "all individuals should have an equal opportunity to make for themselves the lives that they are able and wish to have...without being hindered in or prevented from doing so by discriminatory practices based on race, national or ethnic origin, colour, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, family status (or) disability..."

As with anything precious, these principles must be nurtured and protected. We must continue to work hard to ensure that Canada remains a country of inclusiveness, where people are able to forge common bonds in a spirit of good-will and mutual respect. Pride Week is an opportunity for all Canadians to reflect on these values which unite us all.

J'ai le plaisir de saluer tous les participants au festival de la semaine de la Fierté de 1999.

En tant que Canadiens, nous sommes fiers de cette diversité que nous considérons comme une source de force et d'enrichissement. En fait, notre pays est né de l'idée que des gens aux origines diverses pouvaient oeuvrer ensemble à bâtir un foyer commun, dans la paix et la sécurité, tout en conservant leur spécificité. Cette idée a germé au Canada : elle a favorisé l'éclosion des principes de tolérance, d'équité et de compassion à l'égard de tous les Canadiens et fait dépérir les préjugés et l'intolérance. En restant fidèles à nos premiers principes, nous avons édifié un pays reconnu dans le monde entier pour sa qualité de vie inégalée où nous sommes fiers de pouvoir être à la fois différents et égaux.

Ce fier engagement est clairement énoncé dans la Loi canadienne sur les droits de la personne qui reconnaît : « le droit de tous les individus [...] à l'égalité des chances d'épanouissement, indépendamment des considérations fondées sur la race, l'origine nationale ou ethnique, la couleur, la religion, l'âge, le sexe, l'orientation sexuelle, l'état matrimonial, la situation de famille, [...] ou la déficience. »

Il faut veiller sur ces principes, comme sur tout bien précieux, et les protéger. Nous devons poursuivre nos efforts afin de préserver l'esprit d'ouverture qui fait du Canada un pays où l'on peut tisser des liens dans un esprit de bonne volonté et de respect mutuel. La semaine de la Fierté convie tous les Canadiens et Canadiennes à contempler ces valeurs qui nous rassemblent.
