"GLORIOUSLY FREE"

is the first documentary ever to explore the world of gay immigration and the desperate search of five young men to find welcoming arms outside their countries of birth, where persecution and hatred of alternative lifestyles may lead to torture or death. Excluded from the opportunity to live freely in their native countries, these five remarkable and resilient young men tell stories of blackmail, torture, of broken legs and facing the end of a gun barrel."

Followed by a speaker:

Gillian Wells, from the KW Counselling Services
